"Saturday the 25 of May 2019: Space is still fake and no-one is ever going to Mars. Wake the fuck up you bunch of mind controlled sci-fi nerds. Don't you think someone would have gone back to the Moon by now if that shit were possible? I mean it's been almost 50 years already, you fucking sheep" - news I'd consider actually clicking on Elon Musk, proving that people are more willing to be scammed by a man with a South African accent.

Is that like the Middle Earth internet? Because we'll live in Hobbiton before any of us goes to so-called "space."

Remember the thing where he supposedly put a Tesla in space? The one that he said was just a regular car, with no special modifications, but didn't freeze or shatter? I wonder if it's showing sun damage yet? Funny how they just stopped talking about or showing us pictures of that.

"You can tell its real because it looks so fake" he said. Gosh that hoax didn't age well.

[\[-\] iunno](#) 0 points (+0|-0) 2.7 minutes ago (edited 2.1 minutes ago)

Yeah, if it was a real car it would have frozen in the vacuum while getting fried by the sun. Why aren't Tesla giving weekly updates on it? They must be hoping we just forget about it so we don't uncover their hoax.

The livestream of the car "in space" was littered with bubbles. And was clearly CGI bullshit. They dont even try hard.

Finally. I can save my porn stash to the dark side of the moon. The cloud just isn't enough. Some asshole with a telescope can still see my porn.

I read that there is a cb radio internet. All you need is a signal converter. Bunch of retired radio men from the military set it up for the apocalypse. This was some years ago, not sure of it's status.
