

IRS SHOULD END ALL '501' CHARITIES EXEMPTIONS. ALL MODERN CHARITIES ARE CORRUPT RACKETEERING OPERATIONS THESE DAYS

By Conner Reese

You can't pick up a newspaper anymore without reading about another huge and famous charity that has committed mobster-like embezzlement of money.

Charity organizations used to do good things, now they do organized crime.

Almost every single "charity executive" has been caught stealing money.

Almost every single charity has been found to be only using a tiny percentage of what the public gives it. It is now worthless to give your cash to a so-called charity.

You should only donate physical things that those with hardships need. The cash you give to charity groups now goes straight into some executive's pockets.

Goldman Sachs, and all of the big crooked law firms, sell the same pitch to every millionaire in America. They say: "Start a charity and we can hide all of your money in it."

A millionaire with a crooked trust fund charity is like teats on a cow. Every cow has one.

The IRS has to shut every single one of these '501' charities down.

If someone wants to start a charity then this should not stop them. They should just do their charity and pay their taxes on the few things they buy.

Ending every '501' tax exemption will not end charities. It will end CORRUPTION!
